Spirituality Ministry

2025 Reflection Days & Retreats

The Sisters of Saint Joseph, in the spirit of Mary MacKillop and Julian Tenison Woods, have a long history of responding to spirituality and faith formation needs. After the Second Vatican Council, Spirituality Centres were established as the Sisters opened their hearts to the needs of the Church, other religious communities and the wider public. Our Centres span the country and have been beloved for many years.

As the Spirituality Ministry of the Sisters of Saint Joseph enters a new chapter, we have endeavoured to diversify, broaden and increase our offerings for 2025. We are delighted to be offering these reflection days, retreats and sabbaticals as opportunities to nurture one's spirit. These programs are an invitation to all to encounter the sacred in their lives.

Registration Information

Please register for your desired reflection day, retreat or sabbatical directly with the relevant Spirituality Centre.

Pay Attention to Your Life

14 March – 16 March
St Joseph’s Baulkham Hills
Norwest, NSW

This two-day retreat will help you understand and invoke mindfulness. There will be space to pay attention in the present moment to wisdom just below your conscious awareness. Movement done with attention to your body sensations, progressive muscular relaxation, and guided stillness-based meditation will help you be present in a way that allows this wisdom to be experienced and integrated into your consciousness.

You will also be able to immerse yourself in soul collage – the simplistic act of making soul cards draws you into being creatively present in the moment. Potential outcomes for you are igniting intuition, encouraging self-discovery, and provision of personal guidance for your life. Opportunities to engage with poetry will lead you into reflection and self-awareness and some poems will entice you to commune with nature. Being truly present in this beautiful location with an abundance of bird song is bound to enhance your appreciation of nature.

Allowing Nature to Nurture in the Midst of a Changing Climate

22 March – 23 March
St Joseph’s Spirituality and Education Centre
Kincumber South, NSW

Using grief as a doorway to find new hope in the midst of climate despair, this retreat will provide a space to reflect, listen and come together as a community in order to express some of the impacts that our changing climate is having on us on a day-to-day basis.

Over the two days there will be opportunities to reconnect with nature through the serene and beautiful surrounds of the Retreat Centre; to stop and listen to some of the deeper feelings and expressions that form the grief that you may be experiencing; and to allow the transformative nature of grief to move you into a place of hope and action as you re-enter your world.

“When we look (at our grief), when we take it in our hands... then it turns. It turns to reveal its other face, and the other face of our pain for the world is our love for the world, our absolutely inseparable connectedness with all life.” (Joanne Macy, in an interview with Krista Tippett).

“Is sorrow the true wild? And if it is — and if we join them — your wild to mine — what’s that? For joining, too, is a kind of annihilation. What if we joined our sorrows, I’m saying. I’m saying: What if that is joy?” Ross Gay (taken from The Book of Delights).

Storylines

3 May – 4 May
Mary MacKillop Precinct
Adelaide, SA

Stories and parables have been passed on through oral or written tradition in every spiritual culture for thousands of years. They carry knowledge, cultural traditions, insights and wisdom. Stories are powerful. Our inner journey also has a story, a story about us, how we see our world, how we see ourselves, what we believe and why we believe it. Our stories can limit us, but they can also help us remove barriers and create beautiful narratives about who we truly are, who we can become and what stories we choose to pass on to the world as we align with our spiritual journey.

Hobart, TAS

Beauty calls, truth enlightens, and goodness is worthy of attention and imitation. Our hunger for them is infinite; no one man, woman, sunset or painting contains all beauty, no single word or phrase contains all truth, and no one act contains all goodness. Each call us to the adventure of discovering the infinite beauty, truth and goodness that is God. An infinite God for our infinite hunger: a restful dwelling for the restless heart. Spend a weekend being reawakened to Christ as the revelation of beauty, truth and goodness. The retreat includes meals, workshops and lectures that unpack scripture, art, wisdom from the saints, sacred tradition and the sacramental life, time for prayer, dialogue and solitude, and opportunities for celebrating mass and reconciliation.

Go to Joseph: Strength Ordered to Love

23 August – 24 August
Josephite Mission and History Centre
Hobart, TAS

Men are being challenged to show-up, there is a deep hunger for authentic masculinity. Half our kids will go to bed at night without saying goodnight to their father. Loud voices proclaim there is no heavenly father. Young people tell us they feel increasingly lost and lonely while women hope for a worthy partner. Men want more too. In similar times, God chose a father and husband to stand by his Son, and the Son's mother. Who was this silent, yet present, confident and competent man? Find and give voice to that man within yourself and your fellow men. He is the man the world needs: comfortable in his own skin, confident in the face of opportunities and challenges, and competent to speak his mind and act for the greater good. Answer this challenge guided by Saint Joseph in scripture and sacred tradition, and leading research into relationships and the well-ordered life. The retreat includes meals, men's circles, workshops and lectures, challenges, hiking in the foothills of Mt Wellington, the Jesus prayer with breathwork, and opportunities for mass, and reconciliation.
